Constance CAMPION

Meet our Expert Speaker

Constance Campion is a prolific City analyst with a niche expertise in physician and medical enterprise. Before Wall Street discovered private medical practice, Constance Campion was actively involved in developing the field through writing and consulting internationally from London. Her 20 years in the arena demonstrates her belief in and her commitment to patients and physicians being at the heart of a culture of ethical medical enterprise. A seasoned expert in terms of her combined training and experience, she is best known for her knowledge and in-depth analytical grasp of clinical, corporate and educational affairs in her specialist arena. Her qualities as an authority on consultants extends furthest due to the qualified privilege she has gained in her capacity as the long-suffering wife of a consultant plastic surgeon. Constance is known as an educational and entertaining speaker. You won't be bored during this lecture! Her energetic style, specific examples, and practical illustrations will give you an insight into practice problems that may require attention, whilst best practise in consultant- secretary relations is part of the humorous competency that she will willingly illustrate and share.
